

iPhone Apps - iPhone Development

Contributed by Brian Williford

Oh My Brain has been in the software development industry for nearly a two decades and now proudly adds high-impact iPhone, Applications, and mobile applications for companies ranging from start-ups to the Fortune 500 enterprises.

JoomlaDo for Joomla is out first line of mobile product. Designed specifically for the Joomla Web Developer, JoomlaDo allows up to the minute mobile communications between you and your website members.

If your business or enterprise needs a developer to make the next big App Store hit you need a developer with proven experience. Oh My Brain offers sevices to bring your application from conceptualization to market. We are a leading developer of mobile software applications for smartphones and other mobile devices. We also provide valuable professional services in areas of mobile application design, project management, quality assurance, and product documentation. From conception to completion Oh My Brain is well positioned to create your unique mobile application.

- iPhone Developer Program Licensed Programmer
- Certificate for Appstore Distribution
- Quartz, OpenGL and iTorque Capabilities
- iPhone SDK and Xcode IDE Experts

The iPhone offers a plethora of tool sets that can make your business more competiive. Such as Geolocate services, Multi data and send methods, host mySQL Lite database, email and voice. The iPhone is a new computing platform that is great for porting over apps from other mobile systems at add functionality. We can also integrate your new hand held application with exisinting legacy software.

Mobile Application Examples Include:

- Website Repackaging
- Mobile Marketing Applicatons
- Music and Entertainment
- Video Feed Budles
- Mobile Payment Systems
- HR Management

Oh My Brian, inc specializes in Joomla CMS and iPhone Application Development for Joomla in Charlottesville, Va.